Ike Says Varying Views in Party Is Healthy Idea

AUGUST, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower, target of some criticism by fellow Republicans lately, said today, "There are differences of opinion within our party and I hope there always will be."
Without specifically noting any criticism of himself, the President predicted GOP success, but said: "Under our two-party system, a national party must contain within it divergent points of view reflecting the varying opinions on national issues from state to state, region to region."
"This is a healthy condition as long as the fundamental beliefs within that party provide a common nucleus of thought, a com-

Senate Passed Bill Giving New School Powers

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Senate has approved a bill to allow school superintendents to expel out-of-line students—and have a board of education hearing on the expulsion afterward.

The measure to strengthen the disciplinary hand of school officials was sent to the House with only one dissenting vote. Under present law, expulsions are in the hands of boards of education only.

The Senate approved measure provides that expulsion hearings may be private if the attorney for the family of the expelled student requests privacy. But any board action on the expulsion would have to be taken in public.

Less than an hour later, the House passed unanimously and sent to the Senate a bill to permit the use in Ohio of a new punch-ballot voting machine whose ballots could be run through counting machines to speed up election return reporting.

THE MACHINE is the invention of Martin A. Coyle, chairman of the Butler County Republican Committee. The pint-size machine, which is 8 1/2 inches wide and less than 30 inches high, weighs only 35 pounds. Its cost is less than half that of normal-sized machines. Coyle says its use would eliminate voting-machine storage problems experienced by many boards of election.

In another school matter, the House defeated, 82-38, a bill to limit first-grade admissions to children who reach the age of 6 by Oct. 1 of the school year starting in September. That action leaves school admissions up to local school boards.

Some boards still accept first graders who read the age of 6 before Jan. 1 of the school year in which they start.

In sessions winding up the 16th legislative week:

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill changing the required method of notification to policyholders of domestic mutual life insurance companies of impending consolidations and mergers. Present law requires notification by mail. The Senate bill would require notification by publication for six consecutive weeks in the newspaper of largest circulation in the county seats of the counties in which affected firms have offices.

THE HOUSE passed and sent to the Senate a bill permitting city councilmen to hold other public jobs if the other jobs are not elective or with the city government.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing city councils to assess property owners for "planting, maintaining and removing shade trees along streets." The bill passed, 88-31, after a flurry of opposition.

The House Judiciary Committee referred to a subcommittee two bills which, between them, would abolish justice of the peace courts and replace them with county courts having jurisdiction outside municipal court areas.

Average Temperatures Seen Ahead for Ohio

COLUMBUS (AP)—Average April weather is forecast for Ohio the next five days. Here is the prediction:

"Temperatures will average near normal; warm Saturday, cooler Sunday and cool Monday through Wednesday. Normal high 63 north to 68 south; normal low 42 to 45. Rainfall will average near 1 inch in showers Saturday and over southeast portion Sunday. Showers again Tuesday or Wednesday."

Military Chief Now Governing Uneasy Jordan

Around-Clock Curfew Continues in Nation's 5 Largest Cities

AMMAN (AP)—Defense Minister Suleiman Toukan today was appointed military governor of all Jordan as King Hussein's kingdom passed through its second day of martial law. Toukan will wield tremendous power in the seething country.

Continuing the almost round-the-clock curfew in Jordan's five biggest cities, the new government of premier Ibrahim Hashem banned all public prayer services for the Moslem sabbath today.

The idea is to prevent large gatherings which the king's leftist, communist and extreme nationalist enemies might turn into violent demonstrations.

Hashem reported no incidents occurred during curfew recesses Thursday, allowed for the population to buy food. The stay-indoors order was relaxed for two hours in Amman and for one hour in Arab Jerusalem, Ramallah, Nablus and Irbid.

The American consulate in the Israeli sector of Jerusalem says there is no truth to the report Thursday that Americans were being evacuated from the Jordan sector of the city.

MANY COMMUNISTS and leftist leaders were reported arrested in a roundup aimed at crushing the Communist movement in Jordan.

The premier called in ambassadors and other representatives of neighboring Arab states and gave them the government's version of the developments which have rocked Jordan during the past three days.

Neighboring Syria and Egypt, meanwhile, were reported faced with a demand from that Syria pull out the 5,000 troops it has in northern Jordan. They are there ostensibly to protect Jordan against Israel, but Western governments have feared they might be used to annex part of Jordan for Syria as a result of the kingdom's unsettled condition.

Hussein already had accused his "brothers in Egypt" of stirring up the riots which brought on his declaration of martial law and total curfew Thursday.

Withdrawal of the Syrian forces would further threaten Egyptian President Nasser's leadership of the four-nation Arab alliance of Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Saudi Arabia. But failure to pull out the Syrians risked a clash with Iraqi troops and perhaps the soldiers of Saudi Arabia's King Saud.

Syria's President Shukri Kuwattli and an Egyptian delegation flew to see Saud today after an urgent conference in Cairo with President Nasser. Where Saud stands still was not clear, but both he and Hussein have taken a strong anti-Communist line and he has been reported backing Hussein in his crackdown on Jordanian extremist elements.

Tornado in Nebraska Kills Man, Injures 18

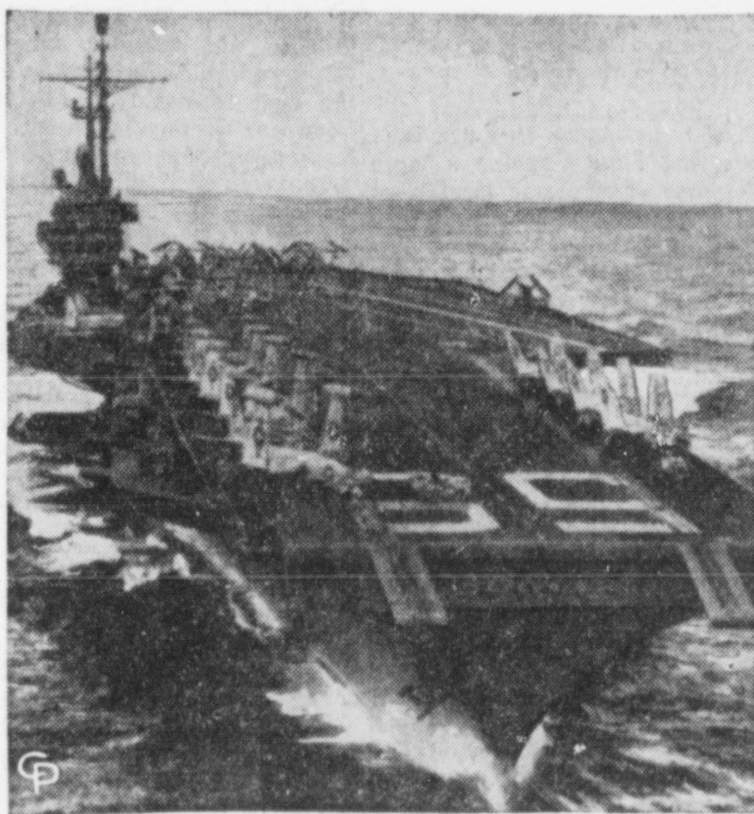

MILFORD, Neb. (AP)—One person was killed and 18 others hurt as a tornado swooped down on this little southeast Nebraska town of less than 1,000 Thursday.

The body of Paul Cast, 76, was found in the wreckage of his farm home 10 miles southwest of here early today. Sheriff Ray Welch said Cast lived alone.

Between 75 and 100 homes and business establishments were demolished or damaged.

Texas Again Hit By Wild Storms

DALLAS (AP)—Heavy thunderstorms, high winds and hail lashed a wide section of storm-battered Texas again today, posing new flood dangers.

Gov. Price Daniel said he would ask President Eisenhower to designate the worst flood areas for federal disaster relief.

A line of thunderstorms rumbled across central, north central and northeast Texas. Hundreds of persons were evacuated when flash floods struck at Abilene and San Antonio.

Rising rivers and creeks in southeast and central Texas surged at flood stages following the seventh day of torrential rain, hail and thunderstorms. Creeks and streams spilled out of their banks in west Texas in a new flood area.

Some 125 persons were evacuated when flood waters of Elm Creek and Cat's Claw Creek swirled into the Henson addition today in northwest Abilene. The water ran waist deep in homes.

A HEAVY thunderstorm also lashed San Antonio, overflowing already swollen creeks within the city. The police department said between 50 and 100 families on the north and west side of town had to be evacuated from their homes.

Water spilled into streets that already were impassable by the flash flood that covered the city two days ago.

Rain up to an unofficial two inches soaked the city in a two-hour period. Police said in at least two instances cars were tumbled into ravines by the swift-flowing water.

Citizens Panel Rejects OSU-Miami Survey

A proposal that the Fayette County Citizens Committee recommend the employment of Ohio State University education expert, working in cooperation with Miami University, to make a survey of city-county school needs here was defeated by the committee at its regular meeting Thursday night by a vote of 6 to 3.

The three Washington C. H. district representatives on the committee voted for the motion while the six rural district representatives voted against it.

The motion was made by Ray Brandenburg and seconded by Walter Rettig.

It was defeated only after a lengthy debate, marked by flaring tempers.

THE MOTION, had it passed, would have been a recommendation to the Miami Trace and city boards that they employ the survey agencies. The Citizens Committee itself has no power other than suggestion and recommendation.

Opponents of the move indicated that they desired more time to look in to the matter of surveys and pointed out that the committee must recommend survey agencies which would be acceptable to both boards of education.

The inference was that an Ohio State survey, particularly, would not be acceptable to the Miami Trace board.

Meanwhile the three city delegates reiterated their stand that the selection of a survey agency or agencies should not be delayed.

THE VOTE against employment of Ohio State and Miami U. survey teams followed another in a series of survey discussions by Dr. Howard Evans, dean of the college of education at Akron University, and Dr. George S. Pritchard, professor of elementary education at that school.

The Akron U. representative appeared before the committee in answer to a blanket invitation to potential survey agencies prepared immediately after the committee was organized.

Dr. Evans said his school is prepared to do a modified survey, including population projection and school location studies, if assistance is available on the local level.

But he pointed out that without the local help Akron U. is too far distant to be of real assistance and suggested that the committee avail itself of the services offered by such schools as Ohio State and Miami U.

FIRST STEP, Dr. Evans pointed out, should be a decision on the type of survey desired. There has been no unanimity on this point, the city-appointed committee members apparently favoring a comprehensive survey, including matters of curriculum, and the six other members not committed on exact-

Daylight Time Starts Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Daylight Saving Time (DST) begins at 2 a.m. Sunday, and a survey shows it is spreading.

Several new states are added this year to the roster of those which will observe "fast time" on a statewide basis. In states where the time has been mixed in past summers, more communities are adopting DST.

Also growing is the movement to continue Daylight Saving Time until the last Sunday in October, instead of ending it on the once traditional closing date, the last Sunday in September.

Farmers, who are the principal opponents of summer fast time, will be horrified to learn that a new movement is under way to put DST into effect the year round.

They will be cheered, however, to learn that the movement so far has gained little support except in Louisville, Ky., where an ordinance to put through DST winter and summer is being debated.

And the movement went backward in Indiana, where some communities having year-around DST will have to end it in the fall because of a new state law.

Generally, the eastern seaboard south to Washington, D. C., will observe Daylight Saving Time, as will California, Nevada and scattered cities and states in between. Most of the South, the Middle West and Southwest and Far West will ignore the time switch.

New states added this year to the list of those which will go on DST statewide are Indiana (spotty in recent years), Wisconsin, and Minnesota.

New state laws settled the issue in Indiana and Minnesota; a statewide referendum in Wisconsin.

West Virginia will be half and half this year, and central Ohio seems likely to join the northeastern part of the state on DST, while other parts of Ohio remain on standard.

Some 105 communities in northeastern Ohio will start DST Sunday, including Cleveland, Akron, Youngstown, Canton, and Warren. If Columbus voters approve DST in May 7 elections, it will start May 12 and a number of other central Ohio communities probably will join in.

Union Slapped By $5 Million Damage Suit

NEW YORK (AP)—A $5 million damage suit has been filed by the Railway Express Agency against two striking locals of the Teamsters Union in New York.

The agency charges that the strike by locals of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters is illegal.

The suit, filed Thursday in federal court, asked an injunction restraining the locals from continuing the stoppage.

It also sought $250,000 in damages for each day of continuance of the strike—which was two days old when the suit was filed.

There was no immediate comment by the two locals, whose 1,788 members struck Tuesday.

The company charged in its court complaint that the strike began without notice and in violation of the Railway Labor Act.

The strike followed failure of negotiators to reach agreement on terms of a new contract. The company said the union had asked for wage increases of 52 cents an hour and "substantial changes in working conditions."

Pre-strike wages ranged from $1.96 to $2.21 an hour.

U. S. Accepts Egypt's Suez Plan on Provisional Basis

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States agreed today to accept Egypt's Suez plan on a provisional basis, but reserved its final acceptance until the plan has been put to trial.

The U. S. position was laid before the U. N. Security Council by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who said the plan announced by the Egyptian government earlier this week left much to be desired.

Lodge announced that, pending a final settlement, U. S. vessels will be authorized to pay tolls to Egypt only under protest, as has been the case since President Nasser nationalized the 103-mile waterway last July.

Leaders Believe Jordan Crisis Is 'Serious'

American Envoys Warn Other Nations Not to 'Rock Boat'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States was reported using every resource of its diplomacy today to prevent the Jordanian crisis from exploding into a new war.

The possibility of American forces becoming directly involved under present circumstances was generally discounted here. But no official could say when circumstances might change.

It was understood that American representatives in Middle East capitals were under instructions to emphasize to all the governments there the extreme seriousness of the situation and to urge that they do nothing to "rock the boat."

Meanwhile, the U. S. 6th Fleet sped toward the tense eastern Mediterranean in a show of strength, and the U. S. government accepted Jordan King Hussein's avowal that "international communism" also was to blame for his troubles, an assessment that could bring American forces to the young monarch's aid if he asks for them. As yet he has not.

AMERICAN diplomats in the Middle East were reported quietly trying to prevail on all Jordan's neighbors to act with restraint.

Radio Moscow trumpeted that the United States was trying to "set up a Jordan government which would adopt the aggressive Eisenhower Doctrine."

Britain joined the United States in declaring that Jordan's independence is essential to Middle East peace.

But before declaring martial law Thursday Hussein said he did not need outside help.

The 21-year-old King then made a radio broadcast to his people calling for their support.

In Washington, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California and Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) conferred for 40 minutes with Secretary of State Dulles Thursday. It was disclosed also that Dulles and his aides had conferred by telephone with other Senate and House leaders.

Knowland told newsmen that "the situation is serious."

Asked whether the President's Middle Eastern policy of using American forces—if necessary to protect nations in that area against open Communist aggression would apply in the case of Jordan, Knowland said, "It depends on what conditions arise."

"If there should be outside intervention by the Soviet Union it most certainly would apply," he said. "It might apply under other circumstances too."

MANSFIELD declared that the situation presents "all of the ingredients of a major war. It is quite possible that this country will become involved if events are not brought under control."

Under the Eisenhower Doctrine adopted by Congress in March, American intervention would require a call from the Jordanian government of King Hussein for help. No request for American aid has been made by Hussein so far.

His hope was in part based on a belief that Russia would not intervene in any forcible way, in part on a belief that Hussein with the backing of Iraq and Saudi Arabia and his own Arab Legion would be able to master conditions within the country.

Meanwhile, Dulles took action to pull Special Ambassador James P. Richards out of the Middle East temporarily. Richards has been touring capitals in the region to explain American Middle East policy.

Richards has become a controversial figure because of the violent arguments in Jordan over whether he should be received there and whether that country should accept American aid.

Dulles, the State Department announced, has asked Richards to meet him in Bonn, Germany, next week. Dulles plans to leave for Bonn April 30 to attend a meeting of the North Atlantic Council May 24. Richards is now at Asmara, Eritrea, in Ethiopia.

Ike Says Varying Views in Party Is Healthy Idea

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower, target of some criticism by fellow Republicans lately, said today, "There are differences of opinion within our party and I hope there always will be."

Without specifically noting any criticism of himself, the President predicted GOP success, but said: "Under our two-party system, a national party must contain within it divergent points of view reflecting the varying opinions on national issues from state to state, region to region."

"This is a healthy condition as long as the fundamental beliefs within that party provide a common nucleus of thought, a common ground. We have that in the Republican party — a set of unalterable truths that bind us together into an inseparable whole, dedicated to conducting the government of the United States in the best interests of its people."

Eisenhower expressed his views in a brief talk prepared for delivery by telephone from his vacation headquarters in Augusta to party workers attending a New England regional conference sponsored by the Republican National Committee at Providence, R. I.

THE PROVIDENCE session is the second of six scheduled area conferences arranged by the committee to find out, as Eisenhower put it, "what's on the people's minds, both with respect to the party organization and the issues we face, domestic and international." The first conference was held recently in Omaha.

He made no mention of the 1960 presidential campaign when the party must pick a new standard bearer, but he did speak of the job the Republicans face next year in trying to wrest control of Congress from the Democrats.

"I know these conferences will give us an early start on the all important and urgent task of electing a Republican House and Senate in 1958," the President said. "It is well to concentrate on '58."

While he took note of intra-party differences, Eisenhower placed emphasis on agreement.

"As Republicans we have much upon which we can agree," he said. "As long as we adhere to the principles first laid down by our first Republican president, Abraham Lincoln, I believe we can resolve any differences among us, and move forward with programs that will prove of lasting value to all Americans today and in the future."

And to critics of his kind of Republicanism, Eisenhower said:

"THIS administration is dedicated to a program that has as its goal the establishment of a foreign policy dedicated to maintaining peace throughout the world, a strong national economy to permit vigorous expansion and growth, and a higher standard of living for all Americans."

Of late some party members have been speaking out a bit more freely in criticism of Eisenhower administration policies—and a few have been directing complaints to the President himself.

There has been some criticism too from a few GOP members of Congress. Sen. Goldwater (Ariz.), for example, recently hit out at the administration's $71.8 billion budget and at the Eisenhower concept of "Modern Republicanism." Goldwater has predicted the concept won't prevail.

Third Red Spy Pleads Guilty

NEW YORK (AP)—Jacob Albam, accused member of a Soviet spy ring, today pleaded guilty to conspiring with Russians to obtain U. S. defense data for transmission to Russia.

Albam, 64, was the third member of an espionage ring seized by the FBI early this year to confess his guilt.

His action came 16 days after two cohorts in the plot, Jack Sobel, 53, and Sobel's wife, Myra, 52, entered similar pleas, and threw themselves on the mercy of the court.

By so doing, they apparently sought to escape a death penalty.

'Gangsterism Economy' Seen By Labor Racketeer Prober

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) says Senate probers have turned up evidence of racketeering in labor and industry which could lead to "a gangsterism economy."

McClellan, chairman of the bipartisan Senate Rackets Committee, spoke Thursday night before the annual dinner of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

The senator said the work of his committee, after a yearlong investigation, has "barely begun."

"Racketeering is a threat to liberty," he said. "It is criminal, and it has no place in our civilized society."

"If left alone, unchecked and unrestrained, with the momentum

Delinquency Study Committee Urged

COLUMBUS (AP)—Formation of a committee of citizens to study juvenile delinquency in Ohio has been proposed by Gov. C. William O'Neill.

He discussed his idea here Thursday with representatives of the Cleveland Welfare Federation. He suggested a "statewide study to organize and stimulate the thinking and crystallize public opinion which would result in action in this field."

The governor pointed out that authorization and an appropriation would be needed from the Legislature to get the investigation underway.

WHS Gym Being Transformed For Big Junior Prom Tonight

The Washington C. H. High School gymnasium Friday was undergoing an amazing transformation in appearance as it was made ready for the annual Junior Prom to be held from 9 p. m. until midnight.

Swarms of juniors were making like busy beavers putting up the decorations and arranging the tables in night club style around the sides of the floor.

It was still impossible at mid-afternoon to envision just what the gym would look like when the doors swing open for the dance—and the committee was not telling.

The committee of Joyce Hamilton, chairman, Linda Halliday, Kathy Wright and Sheila Robinson had the plans all mapped out and were supervising the actual work by a group of junior boys.

Janet Ellis, class president, is the general chairman and she and Miss Anne Stinson, physical education teacher, were watching the overall transformation progress.

Mainly About People

Mrs. Willard Bitzer, CCC Highway west, left for Chicago Thursday night to attend a conference of Young Women's Christian Assn. leaders. A member of the personnel committee of the state YWCA, Mrs. Bitzer will return Sunday.

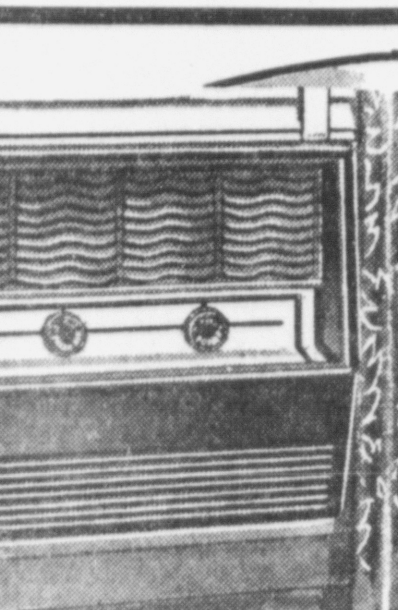

Mrs. Herbert Woodruff, 42 Wilson St., is a patient in White Cross Hospital, Columbus. Her room number is 107.

Alfred Polk, Washington C. H. has been a patient in Memorial Hospital for several days. Yesterday his name was printed in the hospital admissions in error. Miss Addie Polk, New Vienna, was the medical patient admitted on Wednesday.

Merle Lawson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Lawson, Bloomingburg, has registered for the electrical engineering course for the 1957 spring quarter at the Milwaukee School of Engineering. A 1951 graduate of Bloomingburg high school, Lawson is a veteran of four years service with the U. S. Navy.

EFFORTS TO KEEP the gym doors closed in order to give a surprise when the dance started were meeting with only partial success. Interest through the school was running high; so was the curiosity.

The Junior Prom is for juniors and seniors only; it is the traditional party the juniors give for the seniors, who are approaching the end of their high school days.

There will be an entertainment program at the intermission, but this, too, will carry the element of surprise.

Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the queen at this time. She will be selected at the dance from among the senior girls at the dance.

Music will be provided by Wisconsin's Orchestra from Columbus.

Chief Vaiden Long has suspended the 10:30 p. m. curfew for those at the Prom.

job of consolidation that has been done, but after scanning a large wall map showing the location of the proposed Miami Trace high school at Eber, Dr. Evans suggested that it would seem to him that, unless other factors outweighed such a move, a stronger school system and better educational opportunities for everyone involved might be effected by a joining of forces and creating a larger (city-county) district.

The results might well outweigh any loss of per-pupil tax base to the rural district, Dr. Evans observed.

RECEIVED and filed was a letter from the Miami Trace Board of Education expressing dissatisfaction with a reply from Edward J. Cunningham, a city-appointed member of the Citizens Committee, to a previous Miami Trace communication to the committee.

The Miami Trace board had questioned Cunningham's sincerity in testifying before a legislative committee as a proponent of a bill which would abolish county school boards and superintendents in counties where there is only one local school district.

The Miami Trace board has held that Cunningham, favored a bill which would, in fact, abolish the Citizens Committee on which he serves, while Cunningham stated that his support was conditioned on assurance that the bill would specifically retain the Citizens Committee.

AFL Ouster Of Teamsters To Face Fight

CLEVELAND (AP)—Anyone who tries to oust the Teamsters Union from the AFL-CIO "will have a fight on his hands," says James R. Hoffa of Detroit, a Teamsters' vice president and considered by many a greater power in the union than its president Dave Beck.

Hoffa said following his appearance at an Ohio Conference of Teamsters meeting here Thursday.

"We have requested that we be given a bill of particulars of the charges against our union," which comes under the scrutiny of the AFL-CIO Executive Council at a hearing May 20.

"The bill should name the individuals accused of corruption and their accusers, and we want the right to study the charges and to cross-examine the witnesses," Hoffa continued.

The 300 Teamster delegates to the one-day meeting approved a resolution pledging faith and confidence in the International Union officers and another resolution which rapped newspapers, a sordid report of their "are editorializing to give the impression our union is a racket-ridden organization."

The resolution of confidence in officers named no names. Beck has been suspended as an AFL-CIO vice president because he invoked the fifth amendment 117 times before a Senate committee probe of his admitted use of union funds.

Hoffa is under federal indictment for alleged attempts to get secret information in the Senate committee labor-industry racket investigation through a committee employee.

Cincinnati Livestock Dealers Lose Permits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The license of Edward D. Clancy and James R. Clancy, livestock dealers, to buy and sell livestock at the Union Stockyards at Cincinnati was suspended for 90 days Thursday.

The Agriculture Department said the dealers had engaged in practices during 1953, 1954 and 1955 to restrict competition in purchasing sows at the Cincinnati market. The suspension becomes effective May 1.

WHS Gym Being Transformed For Big Junior Prom Tonight

The Washington C. H. High School gymnasium Friday was undergoing an amazing transformation in appearance as it was made ready for the annual Junior Prom to be held from 9 p. m. until midnight.

Swarms of juniors were making like busy beavers putting up the decorations and arranging the tables in night club style around the sides of the floor.

It was still impossible at midnight to envision just what the gym would look like when the doors swing open for the dance—and the committee was not telling.

The committee of Joyce Hamilton, chairman, Linda Halliday, Kathy Wright and Sheila Robinett had the plans all mapped out and were supervising the actual work by a group of junior boys.

Janet Ellis, class president, is the general chairman and she and Miss Anne Stinson, physical education teacher, were watching the overall transformation progress.

Music will be provided by Wiseman's Orchestra from Columbus.

Chief Vaiden Long has suspended the 10:30 p. m. curfew for those at the Prom.

There will be an entertainment program at the intermission, but this, too, will carry the element of surprise.

Highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the queen at this time. She will be selected at the dance from among the senior girls at the dance.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Crows are killers as well as destructive to freshly planted grain and tender corn and wheat plants.

Big, strong and daring, they boldly drive other birds from their nests and devour the eggs or young as the case may be.

A few days ago I learned for the first time that crows are death to youth rabbits, and once started, will kill and eat a whole nest of the harmless little creatures.

While Jimmie Baughn, Record-Herald employee who resides on Plymouth Rd., was enroute to work a few mornings ago, he saw a rabbit greatly worried by a pair of crows, and the actions of the rabbit were so unusual that Jimmie halted his car to see what the trouble was.

The scene was on the former "Coil Camp Grounds."

He soon found out, for while one of the crows flew low as if to strike the rabbit, the other crou dropped down to the rabbits nest and seized a little rabbit and carried it off.

Then the other crow joined in the first to share the feast, and in all probability they repeated the performance until the last of the little rabbits had been killed and devoured.

AN UNUSUAL WELL

I am always interested in unusual wells, whether they are shallow, or deep, water wells, oil wells, gas wells, or a combination of all three.

Waldo Binegar, Creamer Rd., has one of these exceptional wells.

It is on a little hillock toward the rear of his farm, where an old house formerly stood, and was drilled to a depth of 137 feet.

Usually bedrock is struck in that area at 100 feet or under, as it is in the area about Washington C. H. When the well was drilled no rock was encountered and at 137 feet, the drill was still in sand and gravel, which had been encountered most of the way.

That again proves what I have often pointed out, that the great ice sheets which formerly covered Fayette County to a depth of 2,000 feet or more, scooped out the earth here down to bedrock.

The fact that no bedrock was encountered by the drill on the Binegar farm, would indicate that one of the numerous pre-glacial streams which had cut deep into the bedrock in this area, crosses the farm.

Such a pre-glacial stream crosses some two miles south of Washington C. H. One pre-glacial stream as large as the Ohio River and flowing northwestward, formerly crossed near Mt. Sterling.

20 YEARS AGO

Two 12-year-old boys, riding bicycles carrying a pup tent, started out to see the world, were picked up in Portsmouth and returned to their homes here.

William Wood, Circleville Rd., planted corn or April 20, earliest planting known in the county in many years.

Plans for a new high school auditorium, gymnasium and class building and Sunnyside building, were halted when government cut funds to be furnished from 45 to 15 per cent.

Sheep population was increased in the county by several thousands in a single year.

Creeks of the county were swollen by heavy rains, and flood

Scholastic Honors Accorded 4 Students

Four Washington C. H. and Fayette County students have been cited for scholastic achievement at Ohio colleges.

Honored for "High Scholastic Achievement," in the college of engineering, Ohio State University, were Ralph B. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hoffman, 609 High St., and Thomas F. Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Mann, 907 Forest St.

Miss Joann Persinger Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grove Davis of route 70, south, has been placed on the spring honor roll of the OSU College of Education.

Portia Brownell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Brownell, has been named to the dean's list at Ohio Wesleyan University in recognition of her achievement during the first 1956-57 semester.

Fred Wample, director of athletics at Washington C. H. High School, resigned to accept a similar position in Terre Haute, Ind.

"GOO GOO EYES"

Some 55 years ago one of the popular song hits was "Just Because She Made Dem Goo Goo Eyes."

As usual with such songs, it lasted for two or three years and passed out of the picture.

However during that time some of the novelty makers got busy and one of the things they produced was a colorful imitation of a human eye, or arranged that, worn on the lapel, the "eye" could be "winked" by pulling a string.

Many of the boys bought the gadgets and wore them on their lapels so they could "wink" at their girl friends (and others) by pulling a string concealed by the coat lapel and manipulated from the coat pocket.

"RED BUD" TIME

Yes, it is "red bud time" once more, and for the next few days virtually every red bud tree will be in full bloom.

There are numerous red bud trees within the city, and while I have not seen them recently, I'll venture that those on the Rose Ave. School grounds are really "showing themselves".

The hill areas contain large numbers of these showy trees, and they should be at their best Sunday.

Many of the early wild flowers also should be in full bloom Sunday, but it will be a short time before dogwood will put forth its white blossoms to decorate the hill landscapes.

WHS Band Gets Ready For Mansfield Festival

The Washington C. H. High School Band today is getting ready to go to Mansfield May 17 and 18 for the annual five-city band festival along two lines: (1) raise money for the trip and (2) smooth up its music.

The band will go to Mansfield in three busses. It will leave here early the morning of May 17 and return late in the afternoon of the following day.

Transportation of the 100-piece band and its collection of instruments is calculated to cost around $400. This, the band will attempt to raise through the sale of chocolate from World's Finest Chocolate, Ind. Starting Saturday, members of the band will sell it on the streets and all next week at the homes in a house-to-house canvass of the city.

Bandmaster Robert Neumann said the band also hoped to raise enough money in this way to buy some more uniforms and large instruments, which are the permanent property of the band.

IN MANSFIELD, members of the band will stay Friday night, May 17, in private homes but, with the exception of the Friday night banquet, they will have to buy their own meals.

There will be what is described as a "military ball" following Friday night banquet; it gets its name from the fact that all five bands will attend in uniform.

The Band Festival is not a competition; rather, it will ring together high school bands from Lancaster, Springfield, Akron, Mansfield and Washington C. H. for a parade of concerts.

All five bands will be combined for a concert the first night and the following morning they will form a parade through the heart of Mansfield and give another concert before departing from home soon after lunch.

The Band Festival was held in Washington C. H. two years ago, but rain spoiled much of the spectacle and the concert at Gardner Park.

Washington C. H. is by far the smallest city with a school participating in the Festival, but the bands are all of about the same size. That means around 500 high school band members will participate in the concerts and parade.

Families and friends of many of the students are expected to go to Mansfield from the other four cities, just as they came to Washington C. H. when the festival was held here.

$1,000 Collected For Chillicothe's 'Dogwood Project'

CHILLICOTHE — Nearly $1,000 has been contributed to the proposed "Dogwood Planting Project" being undertaken by the Retail Merchants Assn.

In announcing receipt of cash or pledges for this amount from civic-minded citizens and business concerns, Donald Placier, president of the Retail Merchants Assn., said actual sale of dogwood trees is expected to get underway shortly.

The Retail Merchants group, in March, took on the project with the idea of spearheading the planting of 5,000 dogwood trees per year for the next three years.

Purpose of the plantings, in addition to city beautification is to give Chillicothe a crowd-drawing attraction and widespread publicity. Placier is hopeful that blooming dogwoods can be made to rival Washington D. C.'s famed Japanese Cherry Blossoms.

Food Supplies In Vulnerable Spot

Those who have been overwrought by reading predictions that humanity will be wiped out—by not by hydrogen bombs—by poison gas and the spread of germs during the next war, can now relax.

Science, it seems is moving in another direction.

Instead of being exterminated in a spectacular and ghastly manner, people will be starved to death, according to a formula now being considered and to which some research is being devoted. Scientists are toying with the possibility that the food sources of a nation, its crops and livestock, would be more vulnerable as targets for germ warfare than man himself.

Results would be much the same, however. Destruction of food would bring malnutrition and finally starvation. The idea is not new.

Both the United States and Canada were concerned over the possibility that the axis would attempt to destroy the food sources of both countries during World War II, and took preliminary steps to meet such attacks.

Means could be found to protect man against both gas and germs, or at any rate to thwart their effectiveness. But it would be practically impossible to protect crops and livestock.

Answer for the All-America Pest

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—You meet at least one at every cocktail party.

I mean the all-America pest, the man who suddenly wheels through the smoke fog, halts before you, thrusts his face to within an inch of your nose tip, and then, fixing you with his flittering eye, demands loudly: "Remember me?"

And I also mean the female of the species, the wandering lady gypsy moth who flutters up to everybody at the party, and makes a parlor game of cooing to each:

"Bet you can't tell me my name."

What should a fellow who loves his fellow man in most circumstances do in this situation? The chances are that he can't tell the strange man from John Foster Dulles. And who, confronted unexpectedly by a strange, martini-burdened lady, can immediately recall her name, which is probably something like Ramona Schnodteltenglosser?

The unfair thing is that it is the one questioned, not the questioner, who is put on the spot. He is made to look like a premature victim of senile dementia as he stands there, helpless before his fathomless-eyed smiling accuser, stuttering that immortal social line, "uh-h-h, y-y-y-your face is familiar, b-b-but your name, I'm sorry to say, escapes me."

Meanwhile, in your mind you are furiously saying, "Your name, you big dumb dolt? Why if my mother sprang at me like that I couldn't name her unless she also started humming 'Rock-A-Bye Baby.'"

So, publicly embarrassed, inwardly raging, you have to confess your ignorance until your persecutor reveals his or her identity and proclaims his forgiveness that you have forgotten it.

Isn't there something to be done in these situations to keep from looking less like a bum yourself and the pest from looking less like a hero?

There is, if one will drop the spurious politeness one doesn't feel anyhow, and give a really honest answer.

To the clod who demands "remember me?", you might reply: "Sure, I remember you but, man, how you've changed. What did it do to you—the war, your job, or your wife?"

Or, "I remember you like I do the measles—in a spotty way."

To the lady who wants to bet you can't recall her name, you simply murmur:

"I'm afraid I can't be sure. But aren't you one of the Smith girls, the one who married the Abominable Snowman?"

Or, "Your name? Gee, miss, it's your frame that really haunts me. It's come a long way since the old days, hasn't it? All things considered, I mean."

Puerto Rico--The Tax Haven

By George Sokolsky

No one can blame Teodoro Moscoso, administrator of economic development of Puerto Rico, for trying to inveigle American companies to come to his island to enjoy life without taxes.

Puerto Rico is entitled to benefit by whatever means are available to it. But the question does arise whether it is good for the United States that tax havens should come into existence to deprive the Treasury of income.

This is what Moscoso has to say:

"... The Commonwealth government is now offering U. S. manufacturers such extraordinary incentives that over 450 new factories already have been opened on this lovely Caribbean island in the past five years."

To allay fears, Moscoso says that tax concessions are not granted to runaway plants. That is a fine point. How is it determined whether a plant is "runaway" or is just moving to Puerto Rico to save taxes? The fact is that some very large companies have opened up in the Commonwealth where they find it advantageous to be, although it is not likely that these companies sell much to the people of Puerto Rico.

Among them are: Union Carbide & Carbon, Remington Rand,

St. Regis Paper, Beunit Mills, International Latex, carbobundum Co., Shoe Corp. of America, United Drill and Tool, Sunbeam Electric, Univis Lens, Western Electric Instrument Co.

According to Moscoso's table, if a corporation makes a net profit after taxes of $9,500 in Puerto Rico, and it goes up so that if a corporation's net profit after taxes in the United States is $485,500, it will be a million dollars if the corporation is situated in Puerto Rico and continues to sell in the United States.

Of course, it must continue to sell in the United States because how much can Union Carbide & Carbon or Remington Rand dispose of their products in Puerto Rico? How many Univacs do the Puerto Ricans buy?

Puerto Rico is also good for the individual. Moscoso gives some figures: If your income after individual income taxes in the United States amounts to $7,760, in Puerto Rico your net will be $10,000; applying the same ratios, if in the United States the income is $51,180, in Puerto Rico it will be $200,000.

This is real dough and we should probably all move to Puerto Rico but what do we do for a living there? A local American receiving dividends from a tax exempt corporation gets a tax-free dividend.

The Puerto Ricans do not hold out low wages as an inducement to attract new enterprises, but the wages are lower than they are on the mainland and that is an attraction whether it is held out or not.

In a word, Puerto Rico is a tax haven for those who wish to use it as such and because it is a tax haven for some, it adds to the taxes of all the rest of us.

In fact, as taxes rise in the United States, the number of tax havens increases, lawyers and accountants who specialize in this field stimulating interest in the concept.

In some tax havens, a nominal fee is paid which is so small that it does not matter at all. As taxes increase, this situation will become worse because every sensible person tries to avoid paying taxes and thus far the law has favored the tax evader to the detriment of the rest of us who have to share the evader's burdens.

I have selected Puerto Rico as an example because of Teodoro Moscoso's advertisement which is designed to assist American manufacturers to open factories in Puerto Rico to manufacture goods which will be sold in the United States and nevertheless no taxes on them will be paid. It is all legal, but is it beneficial to the United States?

The tax-paying citizen suffers a three-way squeeze. First the government fixes a budget without regard to anyone's needs and taxes us accordingly. Then the tax evader finds a legal and comfortable way to evade some taxes, throwing the burden on other citizens.

Finally, there is the illegal tax evader who just does not pay and gets away with it. The only fellow who really has a tough time is the one who pays and who gets inspected and who is required to pay some more plus a 6 per cent penalty.

Let's all move to Puerto Rico. (Copyright, 1955, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Highway Official Ordered Dismissed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Gordon Jeffery, state director of highway safety, has ordered a field examiner, Sharon M. Quigley of East Liverpool, fired May 3 for incompetence and neglect of duty.

Quigley is under 30-day suspension which ends May 3.

Jeffery, in his removal order, said Quigley did not perform his duties correctly when checking deputy motor vehicle registrars in east central Ohio.

Quigley has been a field examiner for eight years. He also was accused of insubordination but Jeffery gave no details on that.

This business of parental authority has two sides.

You parents view it as sort of a protective shield to safeguard your child during his growing up period. The youngster, on the other hand, quite often regards this authority as a barrier to his desired independence.

Childhood Training

Whether he adjusts to this authority depends as much upon the parents as it does upon the youngster. And just he must, for his future acceptance or defiance of authority is based to a great degree on his childhood training.

Very often parents complain to their doctor that some emotional or mental handicap is blocking their child's progress by causing open conflict between the youngster and his mother and dad.

In some cases, of course, this is true. But in many others the fault lies with the parents, not the child.

Simple Check

How about checking your own attitude by answering these simple questions?

1—Are you asserting authority over your children to satisfy your own need of a sense of power or importance?

2—Are you influenced by the opinions of neighbors or friends on how children should be raised?

Disheartened Lover To Take Down Sign

AKRON (AP)—A disheartened Akron lover has decided to take down the billboard he had posted on Ohio 18 declaring "Florence, I Love You."

Ted Horner said the billboard hadn't won Florence, whom he has steadfastly refused to identify, except to say she is a schoolteacher who drives Ohio 18.

"I still love her and there will never be another woman for me," said Horner, an engineer.

He denounced "some phony" who erected another billboard beyond his, reading "And I Love You Too, Florence."

"I guess some people would shoot Santa Claus," he said.

Food Supplies In Vulnerable Spot

Those who have been overwrought by reading predictions that humanity will be wiped out—by not by hydrogen bombs—by poison gas and the spread of germs during the next war, can now relax.

Science, it seems is moving in another direction.

Instead of being exterminated in a spectacular and ghastly manner, people will be starved to death, according to a formula now being considered and to which some research is being devoted. Scientists are toying with the possibility that the food sources of a nation, its crops and livestock, would be more vulnerable as targets for germ warfare than man himself.

Results would be much the same, however. Destruction of food would bring malnutrition and finally starvation. The idea is not new.

Both the United States and Canada were concerned over the possibility that the axis would attempt to destroy the food sources of both countries during World War II, and took preliminary steps to meet such attacks.

Means could be found to protect man against both gas and germs, or at any rate to thwart their effectiveness. But it would be practically impossible to protect crops and livestock.

Answer for the All-America Pest

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — You meet at least one at every cocktail party.

I mean the all-America pest, the man who suddenly wheels through the smoke fog, halts before you, thrusts his face to within an inch of your nose tip, and then, fixing you with his flitting eye, demands loudly: "Remember me?"

And I also mean the female of the species, the wandering lady gypsy moth who flutters up to everybody at the party, and makes a parlor game of cooing to each:

"Bet you can't tell me my name."

What should a fellow who loves his fellow man in most circumstances do in this situation? The chances are that he can't tell the strange man from John Foster Dulles. And who, confronted unexpectedly by a strange, martini-burdened lady, can immediately recall her name, which is probably something like Ramona Schnodteltenglosser?

The unfun thing is that it is the one question, not the questioner, who is put on the spot. He is made to look like a premature victim of senile dementia as he stands there, helpless before his foghorn-voiced smiling accuser, stuttering that immortal social line, "uh-h-h, y-y-y, your face is familiar, b-b-but your name, I'm sorry to say, escapes me."

Meanwhile, in your mind you are furiously saying, "Your name, you big dumb dolt? Why if my mother sprang at me like that I couldn't name her unless she also started humming 'Rock-A-Bye Baby.'"

So, publicly embarrassed, inwardly raging, you have to confess your ignorance until your persecutor reveals his or her identity and proclaims his forgiveness that you have forgotten it.

Isn't there something to be done in these situations to keep from looking less like a bum yourself and the pest from looking less like a hero?

There is, if one will drop the spurious politeness one doesn't feel anyhow, and give a really honest answer.

To the clod who demands "remember me?", you might reply:

"Sure, I remember you but, man, how you've changed. What did it do to you—the war, your job, or your wife?"

Or, "I remember you like I do the measles—in a spotty way."

To the lady who wants to bet you can't recall her name, you simply murmur:

"I'm afraid I can't be sure. But aren't you one of the Smith girls, the one who married the Abominable Snowman?"

Or, "Your name? Gee, miss, it's your frame that really haunts me. It's come a long way since the old days, hasn't it? All things considered, I mean."

Puerto Rico--The Tax Haven

By George Sokolsky

No one can blame Teodoro Moscoso, administrator of economic development of Puerto Rico, for trying to inveigle American companies to come to his island to enjoy life without taxes.

Puerto Rico is entitled to benefit by whatever means are available to it. But the question does arise whether it is good for the United States that tax havens should come into existence to deprive the Treasury of income.

This is what Moscoso has to say:

"... The Commonwealth government is now offering U. S. manufacturers such extraordinary incentives that over 450 new factories already have been opened on this lovely Caribbean island in the past five years."

To allay fears, Moscoso says that tax concessions are not granted to runaway plants. That is a fine point. How is it determined whether a plant is "runaway" or is just moving to Puerto Rico to save taxes? The fact is that some very large companies have opened up in the Commonwealth where they find it advantageous to be, although it is not likely that these companies sell much to the people of Puerto Rico.

Among them are: Union Carbide & Carbon, Remington Rand,

St. Regis Paper, Beaunit Mills, International Latex, carbondrum Co., Shoe Corp. of America, United Drill and Tool, Sunbeam Electric, Univis Lens, Western Electric Instrument Co.

According to Moscoso's table, if a corporation makes a net profit after taxes of $9,500 in the United States, that profit without taxes will be $50,000 in Puerto Rico, and it goes up so that if a corporation's net profit after taxes in the United States is $485,500, it will be a million dollars if the corporation is situated in Puerto Rico and continues to sell in the United States.

Of course, it must continue to sell in the United States because how much can Union Carbide & Carbon or Remington Rand dispose of their products in Puerto Rico? How many Univacs do the Puerto Ricans buy?

Puerto Rico is also good for the individual. Moscoso gives some figures: If your income after individual income taxes in the United States amounts to $7,760, in Puerto Rico your net will be $10,000; applying the same ratios, if in the United States the income is $51,180, in Puerto Rico it will be $200,000.

This is real dough and we should probably all move to Puerto Rico but what do we do for a living there? A local American receiving dividends from a tax exempt corporation gets a tax-free dividend.

The Puerto Ricans do not hold out low wages as an inducement to attract new enterprises, but the wages are lower than they are on the mainland and that is an attraction whether it is held out or not.

In a word, Puerto Rico is a tax haven for those who wish to use it as such and because it is a tax haven for some, it adds to the taxes of all the rest of us.

In fact, as taxes rise in the United States, the number of tax havens increases, lawyers and accountants who specialize in this field stimulating interest in the concept.

Lancaster Hospital Dismisses Dr. Greer

LANCASTER (P)—The Lancaster-Fairfield Hospital board of governors has voted unanimously to dismiss former Fairfield County Coroner Dr. Joseph A. Geer from the medical staff of the hospital. Mayor John Harvey Weiss, chairman of the 10-member board, said the dismissal is effective immediately. Geer resigned April 12 as coroner. The day before, he had been placed on two years probation in Mercer County common pleas court after he pleaded guilty to a 13-count indictment charging him with falsifying narcotics prescriptions.

'Female Fagin' Indicted by Jury

TOLEDO (P)—A mother, described by authorities as a female Fagin who used her 14-year-old daughter to carry out three burglaries, had been indicted by the grand jury for larceny. Police said Mrs. Cecilia Guzilek, 37, made a practice of breaking windows and then boosted her daughter inside buildings to steal money. In this way, officers said, Mrs. Guzilek obtained $260 from a residence, $60 from a cafe and $2 from a night club.

Class Celebrates
Wilts' Fiftieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Rapp were hosts to 24 members of the Friendship Circle of Bloomingburg Methodist Church at their home on Thursday.

The celebrating of Mr. and Mrs. Aurville Wilt's 50th wedding anniversary was the highlight of the evening. The class presented Mrs. Wilt with a corsage of yellow roses and a yellow rose boutonniere was presented to Mr. Wilt. A lovely cake decorated with yellow roses with 50th wedding anniversary inscribed on top was also presented to the Wilts.

Mr. Homer Emery led with the devotions and read a paper on "The Creation" and Scripture from Genesis also led in singing two songs "Higher Ground" and "When They Ring the Golden Bells," after which the Lord's Prayer was given in unison.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Olive Lynch and a report on the Easter flowers was given by Miss Florence Purcell. Contest cans were opened and were found to contain $52. Captains for next year's contest cans are Mr. Omar Rapp and Mrs. Wayne McArthur.

A poem from Billy Scott's scrapbook "at the Cross," was read by Mrs. Lynch and she also read an article entitled "What Is a Billion Dollars."

Refreshments of individual cakes topped with a golden 50 and ice cream decorated with golden bells were served by the hosts assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Emery.

Society Members
Hold Meeting

The Bloomingburg Presbyterian Missionary Society held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. John Glenn on Thursday afternoon.

President Mrs. Thomas Parrett, presided and devotions were led by Mrs. Harry Locke. She chose as her subject "Jesus' Teachings on Citizenship." Names of missionaries in foreign fields were read and Mrs. Mart Morris offered prayer on their behalf.

Mrs. Glenn was in charge of the program and she chose as her topic "Christ's Way Every Day in

West-Hunter
Exchange Vows
On Easter Sunday

At half past two o'clock on Easter Sunday, marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Wanda Lou West and Mr. Robert E. Hunter in the First Christian Church. The Rev. Don McMillin solemnized the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with Easter lilies and tulips and flanked with candelabra holding white tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald West, 333 Florence St., and Mrs. E. R. Warren of Columbus (formerly of Mount Sterling) is the bridegroom's mother.

The ceremony was preceded by 15 minutes of organ music by Mrs. Coyt Stookey and the selections were "Who Knows," "Through the Years," "Tonight We Love," "Always," "Intermezzo" and "Serenade."

As the strains of the "Bridal March" by Lohengrin sounded, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father and she looked lovely in a white wedding dress that featured a lace bodice with a net skirt over a satin slip. Her fingertip length veil was attached to a sequin covered tiara. She carried a bouquet of daffodils and chrysanthemums centered with an orchid and tied with broad white ribbon to a white Bible that was a gift from the bridegroom's mother. Her only jewelry were ear-rings that were a gift from the groom.

The three attendants were dressed in off-the-shoulder formal and carried bouquets of daffodils and chrysanthemums. Miss Patty Thacker, friend of the bride and matron of honor, was dressed in a delicate shade of lavender. Miss Lois Perry, bride-elect of the bride's brother, was dressed in a pretty shade of yellow, and Mrs. Paul Erwin, sister of the groom, was dressed in white.

Mr. Robert McGaff, friend of the groom, was best man with Mr. Paul Erwin, brother-in-law of the groom, and Mr. Ronald West, brother of the bride, serving as ushers.

The bride's mother chose a blue print spring dress and a corsage of pink carnations was pinned at her shoulder.

Mrs. Warren, the groom's mother, wore a beige print spring dress and chose white carnations for her corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement for more than 60 guests. The tables were decorated with tall candles and tulips and the bridal table was centered with a three tier wedding cake adorned with yellow roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom figurine. Ice cream and punch were also served by the hostesses who were Mrs. Ronald Stephens, Mrs. Robert Speakman and Mrs. Paul Erwin.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter left for their newly furnished apartment at 145 1/2 West Ninth St., in Columbus. They plan to take a honeymoon trip in the near future.

Every Place." The meeting was then closed with the Benediction.

During the social hour refreshments were served by the hostesses assisted by Miss Amy Edwards.

Inspiring
Devotions at Circle Meeting

The members and two guests of the Mary Ruth Circle of the Jeffersonville Methodist Church admired Mrs. Glenn Brock's spring flower garden as they arrived at her home on Wednesday afternoon for their meeting.

The leader, Miss Louise Fults, opened the meeting by reading two poems.

Mrs. Norma Dement chose as her devotional theme "Looking for a better life." She told how all types of music is composed from seven notes and that by adapting these seven notes to individual use it is possible for everyone to make their life a melody.

'C' is the Christ key, 'D' is devotion to duty, 'E' is enthusiasm, 'F' is friendliness 'G' is generous giving, 'A' attitudes and 'B' is bifocal vision to see again. Mrs. DeMent said "Christ is the beginning and end of all our efforts and our prayer is that the Master's music may direct us as we play these notes so that we shall make matchless melody to the Lord with all our hearts."

Roll call was responded to by 13 members naming their favorite song. Discussions and plans were made for Mother's Day lunch on May 1 and the following committees were appointed. Dining Room: Mrs. Roy Young, Mrs. Ellsworth Vannorsdall, Mrs. Russell Garringer and Mrs. Marie Runyan. Kitchen: Miss Louise Fults, Mrs. Norma Dement and Mrs. Marguerite Heironimus.

Further Bargaining Due
In Coldwater Dispute

CELINA (M)—Federal mediator Harry Gray says further bargaining sessions will be arranged "in the immediate future" in an attempt to settle the strike by some 1,100 steelworkers at the New Idea plant in Coldwater.

Local 4839 of the United Steel Workers of America struck the plant April 16 when the old contract expired.

At a negotiating session Thursday, the company offered an alternate wage increase.

Class Celebrates Wilts' Fiftieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Rapp were hosts to 24 members of the Friendship Circle of Bloomington Methodist Church at their home on Thursday.

The celebrating of Mr. and Mrs. Aurville Wilt's 50th wedding anniversary was the highlight of the evening. The class presented Mrs. Wilt with a corsage of yellow roses and a yellow rose boutonniere was presented to Mr. Wilt. A lovely cake decorated with yellow roses with 50th wedding anniversary inscribed on top was also presented to the Wilts.

Mr. Homer Emery led with the devotion and read a paper on "The Creation" and Scripture from Genesis also led in singing two songs "Higher Ground" and "When They Ring the Golden Bells," after which the Lord's Prayer was given in unison.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Olive Lynch and a report on the Easter flowers was given by Miss Florence Purcell. Contest cans were opened and were found to contain $52. Captains for next year's contest cans are Mr. Omar Rapp and Mrs. Wayne McArthur.

A poem from Billy Scott's scrapbook "at the Cross," was read by Mrs. Lynch and she also read an article entitled "What Is a Billion Dollars."

Refreshments of individual cakes topped with a golden 50 and ice cream decorated with golden bells were served by the hosts assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Emery.

Society Members Hold Meeting

The Bloomington Presbyterian Missionary Society held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. John Glenn on Thursday afternoon.

President Mrs. Thomas Parrett, presided and devotion was led by Mrs. Harry Locke. She chose as her subject "Jesus' Teachings on Citizenship". Names of missionaries in foreign fields were read and Mrs. Mart Morris offered prayer on their behalf.

Mrs. Glenn was in charge of the program and she chose as her topic "Christ's Way Every Day in

CRAIG'S

Crime Decreased Here Last Year While Increasing throughout Nation

While crime around the nation increased at record rates, Washington C.H. and Fayette County seemed to smash all tradition last year by showing a decrease. Only 1,792 criminal cases were filed in Municipal Court here during 1956, as compared with 2,366 in 1955, Municipal Court Clerk Ruth Glass reported. Both major and minor arrests were down here, figures show. Meanwhile the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) reports that "major crimes reached a new high in 1956" throughout the nation as a whole.

Only significant category to show an increase here was juvenile crime, which Juvenile Judge Robert L. Brubaker said is "creeping steadily up" here all the time. But juvenile crime on a national level showed a "phenomenal" increase, the FBI said. And furthermore, this phenomenal increase came mostly in small cities, the size of Washington C. H. REPORTED major and minor crimes in the city were down significantly last year over the year before, CPolice Chief D. Valden Long said. Such crimes as armed robbery, grand larceny, rape, assault with deadly weapons and murder were practically non-existent, he said. Traffic offenders, too were down. In the county, Sheriff Orland Hays said that arrests increased some last year, but that he does not believe this indicates a substantial increase in crime. Most notable increase in the county was in the number of intoxicated drivers arrested, Sheriff Hays said. Arrests in the city for driving while intoxicated, which carries a maximum penalty of a $500 fine and six months in jail, dropped off from 84 in 1955 to 74 last year. Chief Long reported. Customary penalty for driving while intoxicated imposed by Judge Max G. Dice here is a $200 fine, 10 days in jail, seven suspend e d. and suspension of driver's license for a year. CHIEF LONG said he was most proud of the decrease in traffic arrests here last year. He credited a large amount of that decrease to the use of the radar speedmeters on arterial highways running in and out of town. "We've used the speed meters here about four years now. Neighboring cities have used them about the same length of time and drivers are beginning to become aware of them. And naturally, "that's what we want," the chief said. In Ohio as a whole, 1956 was the least law abiding year in history in all categories except rape and robbery. Biggest increases were in auto thefts (up to 26 per cent to 9056 and murders (275 instead of 191). There were no murders in Washington C. H. and Fayette County last year. The FBI expressed greatest concern for the nation-wide increase of juvenile crimes. Arrests of young people under 18 were up 17.3 per cent during 1956, and four out of 10 were not yet 15 years of age. Juveniles committed 46 per cent of all major crimes in the nation. The FBI made special note of the fact that the increase in juvenile crime was away out of proportion to the population. Once every 20 seconds last year larceny was committed somewhere in the nation. A car was stolen every two minutes. There was a rape every 24 minutes. Every 45 minutes, someone was killed.

Curbs Seen Coming On Oil Imports

AUGUST, Ga. — President Eisenhower has ruled that crude oil is being imported into the United States in such quantities as to threaten to impair the national security. The President's headquarters announced that Eisenhower had approved a finding to that effect by Gordon Gray, chief of defense mobilization. American independent oil producers have been complaining that imported crude is depressing the domestic price. Eisenhower's action indicates quota restriction will be placed on imports. IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD

Replacing of JP Courts Under Fire

COLUMBUS — Justice of the peace Russel Iden of near Alliance Thursday termed a proposal to replace justice courts with county courts "another move towards centralization of government." He testified at a House Judiciary Committee hearing against bills by Rep. Kenneth A. Robinson (R-Marion). Iden asserted the proposed courts would be too far removed from the ordinary workman and objected to a rule that aP'r Jan. 1, 1962, county court judges must be attorneys. Robinson said his measure would do away with 516 justices of the peace remaining in Ohio after the last Legislature took them off the fee system.

Crime Decreased Here Last Year While Increasing throughout Nation

While crime around the nation increased at record rates, Washington C.H. and Fayette County seemed to smash all tradition last year by showing a decrease.

Only 1,792 criminal cases were filed in Municipal Court here during 1956, as compared with 2,366 in 1955, Municipal Court Clerk Ruth Glass reported.

Both major and minor arrests were down here, figures show. Meanwhile the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) reports that "major crimes reached a new high in 1956" throughout the nation as a whole.

Only significant category to show an increase here was juvenile crime, which Juvenile Judge Robert L. Brubaker said is "creeping steadily up" here all the time.

But juvenile crime on a national level showed a "phenomenal" increase, the FBI said. And furthermore, this phenomenal increase came mostly in small cities, the size of Washington C. H.

REPORTED major and minor crimes in the city were down significantly last year over the year before, CPolice Chief D. Valden

Long said. Such crimes as armed robbery, grand larceny, rape, assault with deadly weapons and murder were practically non-existent, he said. Traffic offenders, too were down.

In the county, Sheriff Orland Hays said that arrests increased some last year, but that he does not believe this indicates a substantial increase in crime. Most notable increase in the county was in the number of intoxicated drivers arrested, Sheriff Hays said.

Arrests in the city for driving while intoxicated, which carries a maximum penalty of a $500 fine and six months in jail, dropped off from 84 in 1955 to 74 last year. Chief Long reported.

Customary penalty for driving while intoxicated imposed by Judge Max G. Dice here is a $200 fine, 10 days in jail, seven suspend e d. and suspension of driver's license for a year.

CHIEF LONG said he was most proud of the decrease in traffic arrests here last year. He credited a large amount of that decrease to the use of the radar speedometers on arterial highways running in and out of town.

"We've used the speed meters here about four years now. Neighboring cities have used them about the same length of time and drivers are beginning to become aware of them. And naturally, "that's what we want," the chief said.

In Ohio as a whole, 1956 was the least law abiding year in history in all categories except rape and robbery. Biggest increases were in auto thefts (up to 26 per cent to 9056 and murders (275 instead of 191). There were no murders in Washington C. H. and Fayette County last year.

The FBI expressed greatest concern for the nation-wide increase of juvenile crimes. Arrests of young people under 18 were up 17.3 per cent during 1956, and four out of 10 were not yet 15 years of age.

Juveniles committed 46 per cent of all major crimes in the nation. The FBI made special note of the fact that the increase in juvenile crime was away out of proportion to the population.

Once every 20 seconds last year larceny was committed somewhere in the nation. A car was stolen every two minutes. There was a rape every 24 minutes. Every 45 minutes, someone was killed.

Curbs Seen Coming On Oil Imports

AUGUST, Ga. — President Eisenhower has ruled that crude oil is being imported into the United States in such quantities as to threaten to impair the national security.

The President's headquarters announced that Eisenhower had approved a finding to that effect by Gordon Gray, chief of defense mobilization.

American independent oil producers have been complaining that imported crude is depressing the domestic price.

Eisenhower's action indicates quota restriction will be placed on imports.

Replacing of JP Courts Under Fire

COLUMBUS — Justice of the peace Russell Iden of near Alliance Thursday termed a proposal to replace justice courts with county courts "another move towards centralization of government."

He testified at a House Judiciary Committee hearing against bills by Rep. Kenneth A. Robinson (R-Marion). Iden asserted the proposed courts would be too far removed from the ordinary workman and objected to a rule that after Jan. 1, 1962, county court judges must be attorneys.

Robinson said his measure would do away with 516 justices of the peace remaining in Ohio after the last Legislature took them off the fee system.

Redlegs Hit .500 Mark, Await Braves

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, now up to a .500 percentage mark with a 4-4 record, still are getting a lot of help from their opposition.

Six St. Louis Cardinal errors in one game, 11 walks by Chicago Cubs pitchers in another and 4 Bruin errors Thursday have helped the Redlegs to three of their four victories.

Thursday's triumph over Chicago was by a 6-3 count. Only four of the Cincinnati runs were earned.

But it's doubtful if the Rhinelanders will get that kind of help in a three-game series beginning tonight. The foe will be Milwaukee. The Braves in general and Lew Burdette in particular are a bit peeved at Manager Birdie Tebbets because he called Burdette a "cheating spitball pitcher" after a game last week.

Burdette subsequently was absolved by National League President Warren G. Giles of throwing the illegal spitball.

Warren Spahn, who beat the Reds last Sunday, was due to work for the Braves tonight against Johnny Klippstein.

The Redlegs didn't do much hitting again Thursday against a trio of Chicago pitchers but they managed to come up with their six safe blows at opportune moments.

They got all of their hits and runs off Dick Drott, a Cincinnati boy, but Drott's support was on the spotty side. A two-base error by Ernie Banks on Bob Thurman's pop fly and another miscue by Casey Wise on Gus Bell's hopper helped the Reds.

Featherweights Set For Elimination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Miguel Berrios and Hogan (Kid) Bassey, a pair of rugged mites, clash tonight in the next-to-last bout of the world featherweight championship elimination tournament.

Berrios was the overnight favorite at odds up to 2-1.

Bassey, the British Empire feather titleholder, has done all his fighting abroad and few here have seen him at work.

The winner will tackle first ranked contender Cherif J'amaia of France for the 126 pound championship abdicated by Sandy Saddler. Saddler stepped out when what they should be.

Rene Valdes, who won 22 games for Portland, Ore., in the Pacific Coast League in 1956, is known as Rene Gutierrez in his native Cuba.

But it's doubtful if the Rhinelanders will get that kind of help in a three-game series beginning tonight. The foe will be Milwaukee. The Braves in general and Lew Burdette in particular are a bit peeved at Manager Birdie Tebbets because he called Burdette a "cheating spitball pitcher" after a game last week.

Burdette subsequently was absolved by National League President Warren G. Giles of throwing the illegal spitball.

The Brooklyn Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals 16 times in 22 games during the 1956 season.

day, a defea in Kansas City.

The Tigers, beaten by Chicago Thursday while the Indians were winning 5-3 in Kansas City, are in last place, a game and a half behind the fifth-place Tribe. Detroit has another game here Saturday and plays the first 1957 double header in the stadium Sunday.

The remainder of the home stand, which ends Sunday, May 12, includes games with Washington next Tuesday night and Wednesday; a single night game with Baltimore a week from tonight; a three-game series with the Boston Red Sox; two night games with the New York Yankees and four games with Kansas City.

Rookie Roger Maris and Vic Wertz will take before the local fans tonight their safe-hit string which stretches back through all seven games played so far. Wertz got a two-run double Thursday. Maris had a single.

Early Wynn got credit for the victory, but Ray Narleski had to come to the 37-year-old knuckleballer's rescue with two out in the eighth. In that inning Hector Lopez singled with two out, Gus Zernial homered, and Harry Simpson doubled. That brought in Narleski.

Wynn had given only four hits up to that time. Three of them were singles in the fourth inning to produce a run.

Tribe Ready For Series Against Tigers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Back from a won-three, lost-three western trip, the Cleveland Indians open a 16-game home stand tonight, sending Bob Lemon against the Detroit Tigers and Frank Lary.

Lary blanked the Tribe last Saturday on eight hits. Lemon lasted only until the second inning of the Indians' first night game Wednesday.

ABC Leaders Hold On to Their Leads

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Scoring in the minor events picked up Thursday in the American Bowling Congress tournament, but the leaders in both individual and team events went unchallenged.

John Bazzanella of San Francisco, Calif., posted an all-time total of 1,916, only 11 pins shy of 10th place in all-events.

Henry Boschek and Carl Zahn of Milwaukee collaborated for a two-man score of 1,200, five pins short of 10th in the doubles standings. Zahn had a 653 series and Boschek bowled a 637.

Redlegs Hit .500 Mark, Await Braves

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, now up to a .500 percentage mark with a 4-4 record, still are getting a lot of help from their opposition.

Six St. Louis Cardinals errors in one game, 11 walks by Chicago Cubs pitchers in another and 4 Bruin errors Thursday have helped the Redlegs to three of their four victories.

Thursday's triumph over Chicago was by a 6-3 count. Only four of the Cincinnati runs were earned.

But it's doubtful if the Rhinelanders will get that kind of help in a three-game series beginning tonight. The foe will be Milwaukee. The Braves in general and Lew Burdette in particular are a bit peeved at Manager Birdie Tebbetts because he called Burdette a "cheating spitball pitcher" after a game last week.

Burdette subsequently was absolved by National League President Warren G. Giles of throwing the illegal spitball.

Warren Spahn, who beat the Reds last Sunday, was due to work for the Braves tonight against Johnny Klippstein.

The Redlegs didn't do much hitting again Thursday against a trio of Chicago pitchers but they managed to come up with their six safe blows at opportune moments.

They got all of their hits and runs off Dick Drott, a Cincinnati boy, but Drott's support was on the spotty side. A two-base error by Ernie Banks on Bob Thurman's pop fly, and another miscue by Casey Wise on Gus Bell's hopper helped the Reds.

Featherweights Set For Elimination

WASHINGTON (AP)—Miguel Berrios and Hogan (Kid) Bassey, a pair of rugged mites, clash tonight in the next-to-last bout of the world featherweight championship elimination tournament.

Berrios was the overnight favorite at odds up to 2-1.

Bassey, the British Empire feather titleholder, has done all his fighting abroad and few here have seen him at work.

The winner will tackle first ranked contender Cherif Jamia of France for the 126 pound championship abdicated by Sandy Saddler. Saddler stepped out when what they should be.

Rene Valdes, who won 22 games for Portland, Ore., in the Pacific Coast League in 1956, is known as Rene Gutierrez in his native Cuba.

Tribe Ready For Series Against Tigers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Back from a won-three, lost-three western trip, the Cleveland Indians open a 16-game home stand tonight, sending Bob Lemon against the Detroit Tigers and Frank Lary.

Lary blanked the Tribe last Saturday on eight hits. Lemon lasted only until the second inning of the Indians' first night game Wednesday, a defeat in Kansas City.

ABC Leaders Hold On to Their Leads

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Scoring in the minor events picked up Thursday in the American Bowling Congress tournament, but the leaders in both individual and team events went unchallenged.

John Bazzanella of San Francisco, Calif., posted an all-time events total of 1,916, only 11 pins shy of 10th place in all-events.

Henry Boschek and Carl Zahn of Milwaukee collaborated for a two-man score of 1,200, five pins short of 10th in the doubles standings. Zahn had a 653 series and Boschek bowled a 637.

Chisox Spurt In AL Raises Some Eyebrows

Nice-Guy Lopez Gets His New Charges Off To Flying Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Are the Chicago White Sox just off on their usual spring sprint, or has new manager Al Lopez got them hustling to go the distance?

Either way, nice-guy Lopez—only manager who did not concede the American League pennant to the New York Yankees in spring training—has the White Sox off and flying with a 6-1 record and a half-game edge over the Yankees for first place.

Lopez has mixed speed, great defense, youth and so far successful position shifts to win both the neat, close ones and the messy slugfests.

The Sox padded their slim lead with a 9-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers Thursday in a three-hour tussle that had 29 hits, 11 doubles and 25 stranded base runners. The Yankees were idle.

In the other AL games, Boston's Ted Williams—off to an unusually fast start—banged a two-run double and two singles for a 3-for-3 day as the Red Sox bagged Washington 12-7; and the Cleveland Indians unfrocked the Kansas City A's, who had won three in a row, 5-3.

Only one National League game was played with the Cincinnati Redlegs pairing six hits with four errors to defeat Chicago's Cubs 6-3 for their fourth consecutive victory.

Despite 16 hits, six of them doubles, the White Sox had some trouble. They finally got the job done with Nelson Fox chipping in two doubles and a single, Minnie Minoso and Bubba Phillips each driving in a pair of runs, and Phillips and Jim Rivera both getting three hits, with a double for each.

Phillips, a part-time outfielder-third baseman in the past, has been Lopez' choice at third base, and Rivera, up to now an outfielder, is the new first baseman. Those were the two question spots in the Sox picture through five steady third place finishes. But Lopez, no stranger to offense-defense problems after six years as manager of the Cleveland Indians, apparently has found the answers, moving young and swift Jim Landis into the outfield to replace Rivera.

Southpaw Jack Harshman won his second, but needed Millard Howell's relief work after giving way to a pinch hitter in the sixth. Tiger starter Billy Hoelt left in a three-run Sox third.

Williams, who picked up three walks, was just one of the boys for the Red Sox despite his great day. The Bostonians tagged 15 hits off five pitchers as George Susce, making his first 1957 appearance, won it with three-hit relief work over 5 2-3 innings. He came on in the fourth, when Clint Courtney's two-run homer disposed of starter Willard Nixon, and didn't allow a hit until Courtney tripled with two out in the eighth.

The Indians got past the A's with a three-run seventh against Wally Burnette. A two-run double by Vic Wertz did the damage. Gus Zernial's two-run homer chased Early Wynn in the eighth, but Ray Narleski then nailed Wynn's first victory.

Ernie Banks permitted two of the Chicago errors, which provided three unearned runs for the Redlegs. Don Hoak drove in three Cincy runs, two with a double, as Brooks Lawrence won his first. Dick Drott lost it.

Today's Golf Courses Said 'Obsolete'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Sarazen said today modern golf courses are "obsolete as a model-T Ford" and predicted the sport some day would be played on tight, crew-cut layouts requiring less than two hours for an 18-hole round.

"The accent today is on speed," the 55-year-old onetime champion from Germantown, N. Y., said.

"What's the answer? Shorter, trickier courses 3,500 yards long instead of 7,000 and greater emphasis on brain work than on hitting power. It has to come."

Sarazen said the golf course of the future would be condensed within the space of a few city blocks instead of 300 acres.

It will play a par 56 instead of 72, he added, with every shot calling for a "premium on accuracy and finesse. It will be strategically trapped with gun-barrel fairways, tenacious rough and tricky, undulating greens."

"In these days who has time to spend four and five hours playing golf?" Gene asked rhetorically. "Golf today is an all-day proposition and, as a result, it is a game which for the normal person can be played only on weekend."

"Land is running out. Residential developments are devouring our established courses. It takes 300 acres or a course and another 100 acres for a parking lot."

Californian Sets Pace in Derby Test

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Bill Casper Jr., a Californian, was tagged today as the man to beat in the Kentucky Derby Open.

This was so even though he held a slim one-stroke lead over Australian Peter Thomson and Jack Fleck of Rochester, Mich., a couple of proven stalwarts.

The consensus among the competitors was that the 25-year-old Casper has all the shots necessary to solve Seneca Course's exacting 6,575 yards.

Thursday he fired his second straight 68 to go into today's third round six under par.

Practice Games Set for Sunday

WCH Outfits Open League Play May 5

Baseball fans will be given a preview Sunday afternoon of the two teams that will represent Washington C. H. in league play this year.

The Athletics, who will make their debut in the Heart of Ohio League in Columbus on May 5, today are getting set for a practice game at the Oakland Ave. park here Sunday with Grove City.

Bob Hildreth, the Jeffersonville High School coach who is the manager of the Athletics in the summer, said he has nine players signed up now, but expects to bring the squad up to the limit of 18 before the May 5 league opener.

THE R & S OUTFIT, sponsored in the Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League this year by Harold Ross and Junior Satterfield, is slated to play a practice game at Greenfield Sunday afternoon in preparation for its opener at the Oakland Ave. park here May 5.

Tommy Smalley, the manager, admitted his lineup—actually the entire squad—is still somewhat of a question mark.

But he has another worry—a practice field. The R & S boys have been working out on the National Cash Register Co. lot, but Smalley said they are already casting about for another practice field they can use when the NCR starts its expansion program. Plans call for construction of a huge addition to the plant out S. Fayette St. on the site of the present baseball field.

Bloomington Drubs Mad Anthonies, 19-2

The Bloomington Bulldogs Thursday won the right to face Jeffersonville for the County baseball championship, as they drubbed Good Hope, 19-2, at Good Hope.

The Mad Anthonies lost the ball game with nine costly errors which the Bulldogs used to best advantage. Bloomington outhit Good Hope only 9 to 5.

Roger Osborne knocked in an extra base hit for Good Hope, while Jim Welsh and Don Hidy rolled off a double apiece for Coach Ev Rudolph's Bulldogs.

Pitcher Gary McConaughy was credited with victory, giving up five hits and six walks, but striking out 11. Loy Overly, who pitched only the first inning, was tagged with the defeat. He gave up three hits, two walks and struck out one.

Don Strouth, who went the rest of the distance for Good Hope, gave up six hits, 10 walks and struck out 4.

Next game for Bloomington will be their county tourney final with Jeffersonville next Tuesday. Good

Niles Mayor Sounds Warning to Gamblers

NILES (AP)—Pledging an active campaign to rid the city of vice, Mayor Edward P. Lenney Thursday gave professional gamblers until May 1 to "desist from their activities." He said the campaign would be waged "even if the police department must neglect some of its other duties."

Hope's next game has not been set yet.

Jeffersonville's Tigers made it two in a row in County League baseball when they swamped Good Hope's Mad Anthonies, 18 to 4.

The game was played at Jeffersonville, because the Good Hope field had not dried out after the rains.

The Mad Anthonies got all of their runs in the first frame without a hit on five bases on ball and two hit batters. Carl Will, after he settled down, held the Good Hope boys hitless and scoreless until the fifth when they got their only two safeties.

The Tigers, took advantage of 11 Good Hope errors to cash in 18 runs on 15 hits. Meriman got two doubles, Evans got one and C. Jordan connected for a triple.

Prosecution Near End Of Trial Testimony

CINCINNATI (AP)—The state was expected to complete its case today in the trial of Lemuel Trotter for first degree murder.

The 29-year-old Trotter is accused of having been "trigger man" in the fatal shooting of detective Walter Hart during an attempted holdup Sept. 19, 1955.

Prosecutor C. Watson Hoyer said he had only three more witnesses to call today.

Chisox Spurt In AL Raises Some Eyebrows

Nice-Guy Lopez Gets His New Charges Off To Flying Start

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Are the Chicago White Sox just off on their usual spring sprint, or has new manager Al Lopez got them hustling to go the distance?

Either way, nice-guy Lopez—only manager who did not concede the American League pennant to the New York Yankees in spring training—has the White Sox off and flying with a 6-1 record and a half-game edge over the Yankees for first place.

Lopez has mixed speed, great defense, youth and so far successful position shifts to win both the neat, close ones and the messy slugfests.

The Sox padded their slim lead with a 9-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers Thursday in a three-hour tussle that had 29 hits, 11 doubles and 25 stranded base runners. The Yankees were idle.

In the other AL games, Boston's Ted Williams—off to an unusually fast start—banged a two-run double and two singles for a 3-for-3 day as the Red Sox bagged Washington 12-7; and the Cleveland Indians unfrocked the Kansas City A's, who had won three in a row, 5-3.

Only one National League game was played with the Cincinnati Redlegs pairing six hits with four errors to defeat Chicago's Cubs 6-3 for their fourth consecutive victory.

Despite 16 hits, six of them doubles, the White Sox had some trouble. They finally got the job done with Nelson Fox chipping in two doubles and a single, Minnie Minoso and Bubba Phillips each driving in a pair of runs, and Phillips and Jim Rivera both getting three hits, with a double for each.

Phillips, a part-time outfielder-third baseman in the past, has been Lopez' choice at third base, and Rivera, up to now an outfielder, is the new first baseman. Those were the two question spots in the Sox picture through five steady third place finishes. But Lopez, no stranger to offense-defense problems after six years as manager of the Cleveland Indians, apparently has found the answers, moving young and swift Jim Landis into the outfield to replace Rivera.

Outfielder Jack Harshman won his second, but needed Millard Howell's relief work after giving way to a pinch hitter in the sixth. Tiger starter Billy Hoelt left in a three-run Sox third.

Williams, who picked up three walks, was just one of the boys for the Red Sox despite his great day. The Bostonians tagged 15 hits off five pitchers as George Susce, making his first 1957 appearance, won it with three-hit relief work over 5 2-3 innings. He came on in the fourth, when Clint Courtney's two-run homer disposed of starter Willard Nixon, and didn't allow a hit until Courtney tripled with two out in the eighth.

The Indians got past the A's with a three-run seventh against Wally Burnette. A two-run double by Vic Wertz did the damage. Gus Zernial's two-run homer chased Early Wynn in the eighth, but Ray Narleski then nailed Wynn's first victory.

Ernie Banks permitted two of the Chicago errors, which provided three unearned runs for the Redlegs. Don Hoak drove in three Cincy runs, two with a double, as Brooks Lawrence won his first. Dick Drott lost it.

Today's Golf Courses Said 'Obsolete'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Sarazen said today modern golf courses are "obsolete as a model-T Ford" and predicted the sport some day would be played on tight, crew-cut layouts requiring less than two hours for an 18-hole round.

"The accent today is on speed," the 55-year-old onetime champion from Germantown, N. Y., said. "What's the answer? Shorter, trickier courses 3,500 yards long instead of 7,000 and greater emphasis on brain work than on hitting power. It has to come."

Sarazen said the golf course of the future would be condensed within the space of a few city blocks instead of 300 acres.

It will play a par 56 instead of 72, he added, with every shot calling for a "premium on accuracy and finesse. It will be strategically trapped with gun-barrel fairways, tenacious rough and tricky, undulating greens."

"In these days who has time to spend four and five hours playing golf?" Gene asked rhetorically. "Golf today is an all-day proposition and, as a result, it is a game which for the normal person can be played only on weekend."

"Land is running out. Residential developments are devouring our established courses. It takes 300 acres or a course and another 100 acres for a parking lot."

Californian Sets Pace in Derby Test

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Bill Casper Jr., a Californian, was tagged today as the man to beat in the Kentucky Derby Open.

This was so even though he held a slim one-stroke lead over Australian Peter Thomson and Jack Fleck of Rochester, Mich., a couple of proven stalwarts.

The consensus among the competitors was that the 25-year-old Casper has all the shots necessary to solve Seneca Course's exacting 6,575 yards.

Thursday he fired his second straight 68 to go into today's third round six under par.

Practice Games Set for Sunday

WCH Outfits Open League Play May 5

Baseball fans will be given a preview Sunday afternoon of the two teams that will represent Washington C. H. in league play this year.

The Athletics, who will make their debut in the Heart of Ohio League in Columbus on May 5, today are getting set for a practice game at the Oakland Ave. park here Sunday with Grove City.

Bob Hildreth, the Jeffersonville High School coach who is the manager of the Athletics in the summer, said he has nine players signed up now, but expects to bring the squad up to the limit of 18 before the May 5 league opener.

THE R & S OUTFIT, sponsored in the Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League this year by Harold Ross and Junior Satterfield, is slated to play a practice game at Greenfield Sunday afternoon in preparation for its opener at the Oakland Ave. park here May 5.

Tommy Smalley, the manager, admitted his lineup—actually the entire squad—is still somewhat of a question mark.

But he has another worry—a practice field. The R & S boys have been working out on the National Cash Register Co. lot, but Smalley said they are already casting about for another practice field they can use when the NCR starts its expansion program. Plans call for construction of a huge addition to the plant on S. Fayette St. on the site of the present baseball field.

Bloomington Drubs Mad Antonies, 19-2

The Bloomington Bulldogs Thursday won the right to face Jeffersonville for the County baseball championship, as they drubbed Good Hope, 19-2, at Good Hope.

The Mad Antonies lost the ball game with nine costly errors which the Bulldogs used to best advantage. Bloomington out-hit Good Hope only 9 to 5.

Roger Osborne knocked in an extra base hit for Good Hope, while Jim Welsh and Don Hidy rolled off a double apiece for Coach Ev Rudolph's Bulldogs.

Pitcher Gary McConaughy was credited with victory, giving up five hits and six walks, but striking out 11. Loy Overly, who pitched only the first inning, was tagged with the defeat. He gave up three hits, two walks and struck out one.

Don Strouth, who went the rest of the distance for Good Hope, gave up six hits, 10 walks and struck out 4.

Next game for Bloomington will be their county tourney final with Jeffersonville next Tuesday. Good Hope's next game has not been set yet.

Niles Mayor Sounds Warning to Gamblers

NILES (AP)—Pledging an active campaign to rid the city of vice, Mayor Edward P. Lenney Thursday gave professional gamblers until May 1 to "desist from their activities." He said the campaign would be waged "even if the police department must neglect some of its other duties."

Hope's next game has not been set yet.

Jeffersonville Wins From Good Hope

Jeffersonville's Tigers made it two in a row in County League baseball when they swamped Good Hope's Mad Antonies, 18 to 4. The game was played at Jeffersonville, because the Good Hope field had not dried out after the rains.

The Mad Antonies got all of their runs in the first frame without a hit on five bases on ball; and two hit batters, Carl Wilt, after he settled down, held the Good Hope boys hitless and scoreless until the fifth when they got their only two safeties.

The Tigers, took advantage of 11 Good Hope errors to cash in 18 runs on 15 hits, Merriman got two doubles, Evans got one and C. Jordan connected for a triple.

8 Are Fined, 10 Forfeit Bonds In Court Today

Traffic Violators In Majority at Friday Session

One man was fined for assault and four others for traffic offenses by Judge Max G. Dice in a busy Municipal Court session Friday. Three others were fined for intoxication and 10 charged with traffic violations forfeited bond.

Assessed $50 and costs after he pleaded guilty to assault was Harold Temple, 29, of Bloomingburg. The warrant was sworn out by his brother, Dale.

Fined $25 and costs after he was found guilty of reckless operation was Bernard Leslie Hatch, 36, of Columbus. Hatch, who pleaded innocent to the charge, was involved in an auto accident on the CCC highway near Bloomingburg two weeks ago. He was only recently released from Fayette Memorial Hospital, where he was a patient as a result of the mishap.

Daniel Thomas, 28, of 1025 Dayton Ave., forfeited $20 bond for failure to appear on a reckless operation charge. Thomas was involved in an auto accident on Highland Ave. about 10:30 p. m. Tuesday when his auto skidded, rolled into the ditch and damaged the fence at the Washington Country Club.

PLEADING GUILTY to making excessive noise with a motor vehicle was Dallas W. Morrison, 22, of Mt. Sterling. He was fined $5 and costs.

Kenneth Rayburn, 34, of 221 East St., pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $5 and costs, while Edgar Rigby, 27, of Williamsport, was fined $10 and costs after he pleaded guilty to the same charge.

Others forfeiting bond for failure to appear on speeding charges were:

Leland Curb, 57, Newark, $20.
Gerald Clemens, 29, Elkart, Ind., $15.

Victor Napolitano, 48, Dayton, $15.

Sylvester Wimmers, 52, Dayton, $20.

James Hutchinson, 36, Cambridge, $30.

Edward Flynn, 28, Waterbury, Conn., $20.

Bradford Gill, 25, Longmeadow, Mass., $20.

Peter Salema, 47, Philadelphia, Pa., $30.

Nancy Hooten, 19, Little Rock, Ark., $20.

Suits Total $15,335 In Crash Aftermath

Suits totaling $15,335 have been filed in Common Pleas Court as the aftermath of an automobile accident on the night of Aug. 16, 1956, at the intersection of the CCC Highway and the New Holland-Bloomingburg Rd., seven miles north of Washington, D. C.

Plaintiffs are Lewis Chaffin, Harrisburg, who seeks $5,335 for damages to his car, loss of a week's work and back injuries, and Chaffin's wife, Ruth, who asks $10,000 for neck and back injuries.

The defendant is Thomas Gourley, Sweetwater, Tenn., whom Chaffin accuses of crashing into the rear of the plaintiff's car while the latter allegedly was making a hand signal for a left turn into the New Holland - Bloomingburg Rd. Both cars were traveling south at the time of the collision.

The Chaffin suits charge Gourley with reckless operation and negligence.

Fayette County Bull Consigned to Auction

A two-year-old bull consigned by Joseph E. Fisher of near Jeffersonville will be among the 38 animals selected from 22 herds throughout the state for the Buckeye Pollock Hereford Assn. auction Saturday at the Clark County Fairground in Springfield.

Emerson Marting of the CCC Highway, west of Washington, C. H., will serve as auctioneer. The sale is slated for 12:30 p. m.

Symposiarchs Hear Story of Chief Pontiac

The story of the famous Indian warrior, Chief Pontiac, and the part he played in the French and Indian wars, was told by Harford (Dick) Hankins, Jr., at Thursday night's meeting of the Washington C. H. chapter of Symposiarchs.

Hankins described Chief Pontiac as a man of honor and integrity, although he spread terror among the settlers as his tribesmen ranged through this part of Ohio in the 1760s when it was the country's wild frontier.

His headquarters usually were in the areas where Detroit and Toledo now stand, he said.

Hankins was introduced by Gene Sagar, who gave some of his personal background.

THE BUSINESS, presided over by President Charles S. Hire, followed the dinner. So many questions were covered that it lasted longer than usual. It included detailed reports on the national Symposiarch convention in Wheeling, W. Va., by Judge Max G. Dice, Belford F. Carpenter and Colin C. Campbell.

Carpenter also gave members of the chapter here a comprehensive outline of a plan adopted by the convention for the establishment of a scholarship foundation, which also is designed to strengthen the permanency of the national organization.

George Baker announced that he, Louis Baer, Robert Haigler, Robert Anderson and Otis B. Core were planning to entertain the chapter at a dance May 25 to take the place of the regular monthly meeting.

Usually, the chapter has one meeting a year with the wives as guests—the Christmas dance.

Hosts for Thursday night's meeting were Hire, Howard S. Harper and Dr. Marvin Roszmann.

Bloomingburg Students Get Trip to Capital

George Iden and Roberta Ater, Bloomingburg High School seniors, will leave here June 10 for a six-day round of sightseeing in Washington, D. C., and Virginia as a reward for their good work on a temperance examination sponsored by the Temperance League of Ohio.

The two were top scorers in the county on the exam, given here several weeks ago. They will be guests of the league on the tour and get a chance to see just about everything worth seeing in and about the nation's capital.

They will join others from all over Ohio in Columbus to leave for Washington. A get-acquainted party will be held in Columbus on Monday, June 10, and the young people will leave by train for the east just after midnight Monday.

Around noon, they will arrive in Virginia and spend the rest of the afternoon visiting such sights as the homes of James Monroe and Thomas Jefferson. In the evening, they will proceed to Washington, D. C.

Wednesday will be spent touring Washington, D. C., and the surrounding Virginia countryside. Wednesday evening there will be a banquet on the Starlight Roof at the Roger Smith Hotel. Congressmen and officials of the National Temperance League, Inc., will be guests.

A trip out to Williamsburg and Jamestown will be Thursday's main event. Friday, the group will visit Richmond.

The youngsters will be back in Columbus some time early Saturday and meet their parents after 6 a. m.

Officers Named By Jasper PTO

Program Given By School Pupils

Robert Fichtorn, was elected president of the Milledgeville-Jasper Parent-Teacher Organization, succeeding Mrs. Ralph Minton, at the regular meeting in the Milledgeville School.

Other new officers elected were Mrs. Tom Ankrom, secretary; Donald Hodge, treasurer; and Mrs. John Morgan, news reporter.

Secretary's report was given by Mrs. Willard Dice, while Mrs. Everett Taylor gave the treasurer's report. A civil defense meeting, to be held at the school house at 7:30 p. m. May 8 will feature Staff Sgt. Warren W. Wagner of Columbus, it was announced.

FEATURED on the program were piano solos by Penny Rankin and Kathy Allen; tap dances by Cheryl Waddell, Randy Dice, Diane Whited, Debbie Hiser and Bobby Pope; a poem by Karen Conley, a pantomime by Vernon Klontz and Frankie Yoakum and a skit by the O-Ki-hi Camp Fire Girls. In the cast for the skit were Barbara Creamer, Frances Klontz, Bonnie Creamer, Kay Rolfe, Penny Rankin and Sharon Smith.

Songs were sung by Cheri Taylor, Ruth Scott, Alice Jenkins, Cherry Fite, Ruth Rinehart, Sharon Davis, Janice Yoakum, Helen Williamson, Sondra Merriman, Carolyn Gault, Mary Jo Minton, Carolyn Yoakum, Kay Rolfe and the O-Ki-hi Camp Fire Girls.

Mrs. Ralph Minton is the leader and Mrs. Edward Rankin the assistant of the Camp Fire Girls.

Refreshments were served by mothers of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades. Barbara Creamer played the piano.

WHS Senior Parents Will Meet Tonight For Party Planning

Parents of senior students at Washington High School will meet at 8 p. m. Friday in Room 1 of the high school building to make plans for an entertainment at the Country Club following the Class Night dance on Friday, May 24.

Established 10 years ago, this phase of the senior program is handled entirely by parents who take charge at midnight as the Senior dance, to be held at the high school, ends.

The supervised program, which customarily closes with a breakfast, is designed to keep students off the highways on one of the "big nights" of the year.

It has been adopted in many cities to combat a situation which in past years has brought tragedy from traffic accidents to many homes.

Carolyn Dean Crowned Queen of FFA of Jeff

Pert, 17-year-old Carolyn Dean was crowned queen of the Jeffersonville Future Farmers of America at their annual banquet in the school gym Thursday night.

QUEEN CAROLYN DEAN

The crowning came as a highlight of the banquet, held by the FFA in cooperation with the Future Homemakers of America.

Carolyn was selected from among all the girls in the school. Karl Johnson, the incoming FFA president, supervised the coronation.

State Chapter Farmer award was presented to Olan Bentley at the banquet. Bentley, who has a high scholastic record, is raising swine, sheep, corn and oats as his FFA projects. He has also received an award from the Milledgeville Bank for keeping complete, neat and accurate farming program records. The rank of honorary chapter farmer was presented to Harry E. Phillips, Jeffersonville High School principal, for his assistance and cooperation with the chapter.

PUBLIC SPEAKING award winners recognized were Jerry Smith for extemporaneous speaking and John Ritenour, for presentation of a memorized speech.

Kenneth Pettit was presented a certificate from the Fayette County Farm Bureau, allowing him a free session at FFA camp. Wayne Hogan presented the certificate for the Farm Bureau. The award is sponsored by Ford tractor dealers throughout the state for general farming proficiency.

The gym was decorated in the FFA and FHA colors. Spring flowers and roses graced the tables.

Food was prepared in the cafeteria by the school cooks. Eighth grade boys and girls signed up for home economics and agriculture for next year waited on table.

"Have we honored rural opportunities?" was the question of Stan Augustus, state FFA vice-president, and the speaker for the evening. He expressed the feeling that the Jeffersonville boys, as well as youths across the nation, had done so to the fullest extent. Invocation was given by Mrs. Frank Creamer. Leroy Snyder served as toastmaster and Carolyn Young delivered the welcome. Response was given by Mrs. Willard Sears.

JOHN RITENOUR, JR. played a trumpet solo and Fannie Langley summed up FFA activities. W. A. Haines, the FFA adviser, presented awards to his pupils.

A pantomime was presented by Patty Wise and Fannie Langley. Lorry Garringer detailed chapter accomplishments and a barber shop quartet number was sung by Karl Johnson, Alva Hanners, Harvey Minney and Joel McDonald. Sara Sue Davidson was accompanist.

Members of the FFA are Leroy Snyder, Jerry Smith, Robert Belles, Larry Garringer, Joel McDonald, Bobby Campbell, Karl Johnson, Richard Bricker, David Cockerill, Joe Cockerill, Kenneth Draise, Allen Garringer, Donnie Hyer, Larry O'Call, Phillip Stephenson, Jimmy Klever, Ronald Sears, Eldon Smith, Larry Carman, Charles Cline, Johnny Davis, Dale Evans, Fannie Fannin, Robert Newman, Charles Morgan, John Ritenour, Jr., Richard Smith, Howard Williams, Larry Wright, David Ford, Robert Howard, Harvey Minney, Bob Campbell, Olan Bentley, Alva Hanners, Kenneth Pettit and Jack Mathews.

Members of the FHA are Fannie Langley, Patty Sears, Patty Stoddard, Jeanie Coe, Sandy Lane, Carolyn Young, Carolyn Kay Ritenour, Linda Allen, Nancy Bricker, Beverly Butcher, Sara Sue Davidson, Linda Hamilton, Linda Huff, Donna Lovett, Sue McDonald, Roberta Molloy, Beverly Sears, Loretta Stanley, Martie Williams, Virginia Williams, Elaine Wilson, Janet Wilson and Patty Wise.

FHA adviser is Mrs. Phyllis McNeal.

8 Are Fined, 10 Forfeit Bonds In Court Today

Traffic Violators In Majority at Friday Session

One man was fined for assault and four others for traffic offenses by Judge Max G. Dice in a busy Municipal Court session Friday. Three others were fined for intoxication and 10 charged with traffic violations forfeited bond.

Assessed $50 and costs after he pleaded guilty to assault was Harold Temple, 29, of Bloomingburg. The warrant was sworn out by his brother, Dale.

Fined $25 and costs after he was found guilty of reckless operation was Bernard Leslie Hatch, 36, of Columbus. Hatch, who pleaded innocent to the charge, was involved in an auto accident on the CCC highway near Bloomingburg two weeks ago. He was only recently released from Fayette Memorial Hospital, where he was a patient as a result of the mishap.

Daniel Thomas, 28, of 1025 Dayton Ave., forfeited $20 bond for failure to appear on a reckless operation charge. Thomas was involved in an auto accident on Highland Ave. about 10:30 p. m. Tuesday when his auto skidded, rolled into the ditch and damaged the fence at the Washington Country Club.

PLEADING GUILTY to making excessive noise with a motor vehicle was Dallas W. Morrison, 22, of Mt. Sterling. He was fined $5 and costs.

Kenneth Rayburn, 34, of 221 East St., pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $5 and costs, while Edgar Riggsby, 27, of Williamsport, was fined $10 and costs after he pleaded guilty to the same charge.

Others forfeiting bond for failure to appear on speeding charges were:

Leland Curb, 57, Newark, $20.

Gerald Clemens, 29, Elkart, Ind., $15.

Victor Napolitano, 48, Dayton, $15.

Sylvester Wimmers, 52, Dayton, $20.

James Hutchinson, 36, Cambridge, $30.

Edward Flynn, 28, Waterbury, Conn., $20.

Bradford Gill, 25, Longmeadow, Mass., $20.

Peter Salema, 47, Philadelphia, Pa., $30.

Nancy Hooten, 19, Little Rock, Ark., $20.

Suits Total $15,335 In Crash Aftermath

Suits totaling $15,335 have been filed in Common Pleas Court as the aftermath of an automobile accident on the night of Aug. 16, 1956, at the intersection of the CCC Highway and the New Holland-Bloomingburg Rd., seven miles north of Washington C. H.

Plaintiffs are Lewis Chaffin, Harrisburg, who seeks $5,335 for damages to his car, loss of a week's work and back injuries, and Chaffin's wife, Ruth, who asks $10,000 for neck and back injuries.

The defendant is Thomas Gourley, Sweetwater, Tenn., whom Chaffin accuses of crashing into the rear of the plaintiff's car while the latter allegedly was making a hand signal for a left turn into the New Holland - Bloomingburg Rd. Both cars were traveling south at the time of the collision.

The Chaffin suits charge Gourley with reckless operation and negligence.

Fayette County Bull Consigned to Auction

A two-year-old bull consigned by Joseph E. Fisher of near Jeffersonville will be among the 38 animals selected from 22 herds throughout the state for the Buckeye Police Herd Assn. auction Saturday at the Clark County Fairground in Springfield.

Emerson Marting of the CCC Highway, west of Washington C. H. will serve as auctioneer. The sale is slated for 12:30 p. m.

Symposiarchs Hear Story of Chief Pontiac

The story of the famous Indian warrior, Chief Pontiac, and the part he played in the French and Indian wars, was told by Harford (Dick) Hankins, Jr., at Thursday night's meeting of the Washington C. H. chapter of Symposiarch.

Hankins described Chief Pontiac as a man of honor and integrity, although he spread terror among the settlers as his tribesmen ranged through this part of Ohio in the 1760s when it was the country's wild frontier.

His headquarters usually were in the areas where Detroit and Toledo now stand, he said.

Hankins was introduced by Gene Sagar, who gave some of his personal background.

THE BUSINESS, presided over by President Charles S. Hire, followed the dinner. So many questions were covered that it lasted longer than usual. It included detailed reports on the national Symposiarch convention in Wheeling, W. Va., by Judge Max G. Dice, Belford F. Carpenter and Colin C. Campbell.

Carpenter also gave members of the chapter here a comprehensive outline of a plan adopted by the convention for the establishment of a scholarship foundation, which also is designed to strengthen the permanency of the national organization.

George Baker announced that he, Louis Baer, Robert Haigler, Robert Anderson and Otis B. Core were planning to entertain the chapter at a dance May 25 to take the place of the regular monthly meeting.
